The company 'Golfballs24' was established in 1999 from the dream of a child who used to spend his days searching for golf balls lost by players on the course near his home. Over the years, this dream has become a passion that has grown into a company specialising in the recovery and sale of golf balls lost in golf course lakes.

Our Job

The Company 'Golfballs24' has been operating in the used golf ball sector for over 20 years. Synonymous with quality and professionalism, Golfballs24 has developed over the years the sector of research and recovery of used golf balls in order to offer an exclusive and highly qualified service to all golf courses in Europe and worldwide.

Thanks to the collaboration with professional divers, highly specialised in this sector, the recovery activity is carried out in the waterways with state-of-the-art equipment and facilities, which allow the structure of the lakes to be preserved in full respect of nature during the operations.

The most important aspect to which we devote maniacal attention is the evaluation of the details of each individual ball - this is done through the application of effective ball preparation protocols and subsequent evaluation.

But what really distinguishes us from the competition?

Each ball is carefully selected and treated to preserve its original playing characteristics - no rebuilt or chemically treated golf balls are sold on our website.

What also prompted us to sell used golf balls is our desire to do something for nature, trying in our own small way to recycle balls that would otherwise inevitably pollute our beautiful golf courses, which allow players to enjoy unspoilt nature on a daily basis.

In addition, during the search activities, our divers clean the filters and collect waste thrown into the lakes, such as gardening tools, batteries, etc.
